Temperature and Dwell times

A temperature of 400F is recommended for all products. Use moderate to heavy pressure-it should require some effort to close your heat press. Time and temperature may vary depending on your heat press and the thickness of the blank material. Dwell times can be increased or reduced in 5-10 second increments until you find the time that results in the best image. The times shown below will provide a general starting point. Please refer to the documentation from your ink supplier for more information on temperature and dwell time.

FR Plastic (name badges, bag tags, etc.):	60 - 70 seconds
FR Plastic for outdoor use (license plates):	80 - 90 seconds
Hardboard (clipboards, coasters, etc.):	60 - 70 seconds
MDF (plaques, paperweights, etc.):	80 - 90 seconds
Phenolic:	45 - 55 seconds
Aluminum (sheet stock and jewelry):	45 - 55 seconds
Aluminum (bookmarks, face down):	60 - 70 seconds
Car Flags:	25 - 35 seconds

*Laboratory research has shown that using a longer dwell time can extend outdoor life. While these sublimatable products feature UV absorbers to extend outdoor life, they are not intended for permanent outdoor use. Fading will occur over time depending on the brand of sublimation ink used and outdoor environment. Contact your sublimation ink manufacturer for data on expected outdoor life.

Mouse Pads and Coaster

- If you are pressing a large number of pads, cut two sides of the transfer, so when they are placed up-side-down on the heat press, you will know that they are in the right place.
- It is generally cheaper, on a laser copier, to print two images for mouse pads on one 11 X 17 transfer than doing them individually on 8.5 X 11. The larger transfers should not be twice the cost of the smaller. If you can use the quantity, 500 transfers are at least 20% cheaper than 100.

Sublimation Paper

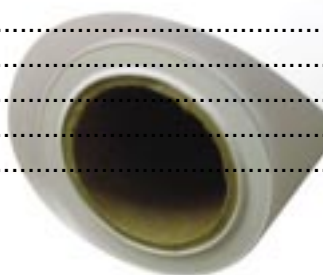

TruePix High Definition Paper

Our latest paper has been designed for use with today's state of the art 6 and 7 color printers, because these printers deliver more ink onto the paper through the print head you need a paper that can hold the saturation otherwise detail will be lost in the transfer. To alleviate this TruePix paper is specially designed to hold the ink on the surface without the paper becoming too wet and then "cockling" due to over saturation.

American Coated Tiles

Sublimation Ceramic Tiles - Manufactured in United States

Coated Gloss Tiles have a shiny surface and will scratch if a sufficient force is applied and are therefore suitable for use only as decorative tiles.

Rowmark Rowmark sublimation Products

MATES: Sublimatable Pre-Adhesive Flexible Plastic. MATES products have an extremely durable surface, which is highly resistant to heat, solvents and abrasion. They have varieties of applications with sublimation inks. All finishes are low-temperature dishwasher safe (with the exception of Prism). Crystal and White MATES are both microwave and dishwasher safe.

* Sublimation ink might migrate if heated at around 400F

Heat Transfer Material (CAD-CUT/HEAT PRESS)

EASY WEED Vinyl Heat Transfer material:

EASY WEED Vinyl Heat Transfer material is a thermo-weldable PVC-free material for CAD application onto non-siliconized textiles. Much thinner than standard materials. EW offers excellent wash ability as well as durability, and is extremely easy to cut, weed and apply. Because of the thinness, excellent performance can be achieved with single or multi-layered applications. EW is a unique pressure sensitive carrier. This feature allows you to apply small letters and fine designs easily.
